The School of Law is registered with the Committee of Bar Examiners (CBE) of the State Bar of California as an unaccredited distance learning law school. ALU's authority to grant a Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree, which qualifies graduates to take the California Bar Examination, is through the Committee of Bar Examiners. Students must pass the First-Year Law Students' Examination (FYLSX) at the end of the first year of study.

Success Indicators:

Graduation Rate

ALU reports completion rate data to the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC). “# of Students in sample” reflects students that have passed the First Years’ Law Student Examination (FYLSX) and this data reflects their completion rates of the four-year Juris Doctor program after their FYLSX passage.

Name of Degree Program	Years to Complete	Date of Sample	# of Students in sample	# of Exclusions	# of students graduating	Graduation Rate #/%
Juris Doctor	4	2009-2015	26	0	22	84.6%

These completion rates measures the persistence of students through their third and fourth year. The reason is because otherwise, two factors external to student’s ability to complete ALU’s JD coursework can skew an online JD program graduation rates: 1) First Year Law Student Exam (FYLSX) passage (since law students who don’t pass the FYLSX cannot continue upper level coursework) and 2) student’s choice to continue education at ALU after FYLSX passage or to continue elsewhere. To track approximately against a six-year timeframe (six years being 150% Normal Time for the JD program), ALU looked back from December 2015 and identified cohorts of third year enrollees in 2011, 2012 and 2013 to be included in “# of Students in sample.” Use of third year enrollment figures excludes students who are not able to continue due to FYLSX or students who have chosen to continue their legal education at another law school other than ALU before their third year of law school. No third year student can possibly enroll into their coursework unless they have passed the FYLSX or have been exempted from the FYLSX.

In the 2015 annual program survey for Juris Doctor students,

97.4% of those who responded said that they achieved or will achieve the goals that they had starting the course or program.

100% of those who responded said that they would recommend their studies to a friend.

100% of those who responded said that they were satisfied with their studies.

Other Disclosures of Outcomes:

Due to a new law that went into effect January 1, 2016, subjecting the State Bar of California to the California Public Records Act, Abraham Lincoln University is no longer being provided data pass/fail statistics of respective students and graduates after each administration of the exams in 2016. According to a September 8, 2016 memorandum issued by the Committee of Bar Examiners of the State Bar of California, disclosure statements of registered law schools are to report all pass/fail data published through 2015, until further notice.
