

Abraham Lincoln University Textbook List for the JD Program

Updated January 21, 2017

This textbook list consists of texts that have been used in the last run of each course, except where there was a new version update. However, faculty may choose to change texts during course development.

Therefore, please do not assume that these texts are going to be used for a course until actual book information is posted out on announcement forums or an updated syllabus within the month before a class starts.

Required texts must be purchased for class, while suggested texts may be purchased depending on the student's own choice to have additional study aids.

*List price is provided, but students have the option to rent, purchase, or obtain e-book as well; many online retailers like Amazon.com frequently offer the book below list prices.

** Retail price is provided for purchase of the print book, referring to online retailers such as Amazon.com and local retailers such as LegalBooksDistributing.com (LBD) as of January 21, 2017.

***Please note that these texts are also used in another course at this time; this is subject to change.
